A VOLUNTEER 'steering group' has stepped in to send young borough athletes to this year's prestigious London Youth Games, after the council withdrew its support for the competitors.

The steering group was set up after a meeting of young competitors, coaches, parents, and teachers last Thursday.

Barking and Dagenham is the only one of 33 London borough not funding its young competitors to take part in the Games.

Mary-Ann Ramsay, who teaches PE at All Saints School Barking and is a netball coach, is co-ordinating the volunteers and is in the process of forming Barking and Dagenham Sports Foundation, which will organise the borough's entry in future years.

Now it is a race against time to get as many youngsters signed up as possible – as registration dates are looming.

The embryo steering group needs teams and managers from schools, colleges and clubs, which competed last year, to step forward, as well as donations from the public and local businesses to cover transport and 'borough uniform' costs, around £3,000.

"At the very least we will need team T-shirts," Mary-Ann said.

She added: "We were on the crest of a sporting wave last September, looking forward to the coming Youth Games, the largest in Europe, then the next month the council withdrew its support for local competitors."

STEPPING IN: Volunteers are keen to get to the London Youth Games, with Olympic rower Mark Hunter.

"It was amazing because it has already paid a registration fee of £7,200 to the London Games."

"However we, as a community, are determined to carry on," she continued.

"I am appealing to teams and managers from last summer's youth games to come forward again, as they will have passed all the checks they need.

"These games are an opportunity for our young athletes to compete at the highest level, which is important for their development."

Mary-Ann hopes to be able to meet outstanding registration dates – May 10, 17, 25 and 31 and believes the borough will be able to field at least six teams – maybe 12.

"We are already behind everybody else as some registration dates have passed, but we are determined to be there."

Russell Findlay, chief executive for the youth games is delighted with the passion local people have shown.

"We will do whatever we can to ensure this opportunity is not lost to the borough's young athletes," he said.

A council spokesman said: "The decision to withdraw from the London Youth Games, which only benefits a very small number of young people who are already engaged in sport, has enabled us to spend the money in a different way; funding the Community Games which ensures that many more people in the borough get to benefit. The Community Games will be inclusive to everyone and all schools, including Trinity Special School."

Anyone who can help in any way can contact Mary-Ann on 07791 189 717.

Student speaks out about importance of games

STELIAN Naftanaila, a student at Warren Comprehensive, picked up an award at the Jack Petchey Achievement Awards in Barking last year after enjoying numerous successes in canoeing at national level.

He said: "I started competing at the London Youth Games when I was 14 and didn't do that well at first because I was starting much later than other people. But I saw that big shiny medal and I wanted to come back and get one. It gave me the taste for it and the next year I won.

"It's an amazing event and gives people something to really go for. My sister has also competed at the last three London Youth Games, but since we were not sure if Barking & Dagenham were able to enter this year, she hasn't been motivated to train. The London Youth Games motivates people to do sport.

"If it wasn't for the London Youth Games I wouldn't have got to where I am now."

Hospice night riders

TWO BROTHERS will pedal through unusually quiet London streets at night to raise money for their local hospice.

Jason Wright, who lives in Dagenham and brother Neal from Hornchurch are ready to take part in the night-time 100k ride for St Francis Hospice, next month.

They are joining the event in memory of Jason's mother-in-law, who was cared for by the Havering-atte-Bower, hospice before sadly she died in 2010.

"I was struck by the pleasant peaceful atmosphere there," Jason said, "The staff were just fantastic, it will be an absolute pleasure to ride for the hospice."

Engineer Neal, who works for Ford hopes this will be the first of many charity rides he takes part in.

The bicycle trek goes through quieter-than-usual streets past more than 50 well known landmarks

Events manager Lauren Josman said: "This event is perfect for anyone who fancies riding through the quieter capital streets and experiencing the sights at night and sunrise over the River Thames while raising money for our patient care."

"We depend on donations and legacies from people in our community so we can support local people who need our specialist care so please consider joining this challenge."

"We only have eight places on the event on June 8 left to fill so if you would like to join us please let us know as soon as possible!"

The route is on roads with good lighting and is clearly sign-posted, with support and back up provided.

Email fundraising@sfnh.org.uk or call 01708 771427 to sign up.

The deadline to apply is Friday May10, and there is a £39 per place entry fee.

SADDLING up: Jason and Neal Wright

Splash and dash driver blitz

MOTORISTS who fill up, then nip off without paying are to be targeted by a special police team in Barking and Dagenham.

Plain clothed and uniformed officers will patrol garages to identify and arrest offenders.

Twenty-one people have been prosecuted in connection with forecourt crime since January and ordered to repay the petrol price plus fines and costs and do community service.

Stolen number plates are often used on vehicles to steal fuel and police conduct borough wide traffic operations using automatic number plate recognition technology supported by facial recognition software to identify vehicles displaying them.

Cashiers working at petrol stations have been advised petrol should not be dispensed to customers whose faces are obscured by a hat or hood, not to allow passengers to fill up, not to sell unless the driver's door is shut and engine switched off, and to insist on pre-payment if they feel any driver is a bit 'iffy'.

Anyone who would like a set of tamper proof number plate screws should contact their Safer Neighbourhoods Team or the vehicle dealer.

Anyone with information concerning forecourt crime should contact PS Rob Mingard or PC Sophie Camiller on 020 3276 1058 or call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Ford sales up

FORD increased its car and commercial vehicle (CV) sales in April and for the year to date, compared with 2012.

The car giant's retail car sales were also up for the same period.

The Ford Fiesta was the retail sales leader, continuing to outsell its nearest rival by more than two to one.

Mark Ovenden, Ford of Britain chairman managing director, said: "April continued the positive news in the UK market that has seen Ford's car and CV models sustain their impressive sales record through 2013..

"Our best-ever vehicle range has proved attractive to private customers, helping to drive up our share of more profitable retail sales, as has the launches this year of the new Ford Fiesta, the Ford Transit Custom, the Ford Kuga and the new Ford Fiesta ST "

Band battle victors crowned

LOCAL band Not Now Jhon won the Gateway 97.8 Battle of the Bands competition last Friday - by just one point.

The tightly fought contest, sponsored by the Yellow Advertiser and the Rotary Club of Corringham Thameside, played out at the Springhouse Club in Corringham.

Six bands competed at the event, which raised more than £1,500 for the Thurrock Parkinson's Support Group.

The night also featured a performance by last year's winners The Ends.

The six contenders were whittled down from 35 applicants after a six-hour session of live performances on Gateway 97.8, where the finalists were chosen by text vote.

At Friday's final, each band was marked by six judges, who included YA sub-editor Martyn Dolton, reporter Charles Thomson and South Basildon and East Thurrock MP Stephen Metcalfe.

Judges scored each act out of 10 on qualities including originality, presentation and potential.

When adjudicators added up the scores, they had to be double checked, as just one point separated winning group Not Now Jhon from runners up Something Simple - who also came second in last year's competition.

Pop-punk group Such Strange Arts took third place.

Judge Charles Thomson said: "This was my first year judging and I wasn't sure what to expect - the talent on display was much greater than I had anticipated. The competition was very tight and any one of this year's finalists could go on to win next year."

Danny Lawrence, of Gateway 97.8, said: "The judges' marks were high this year and there was just one point in it. Good luck to this year's winners Not Now Jhon."

Not Now Jhon will be profiled by the YA in the coming weeks and will receive frequent airplay at Gateway 97.8.

PRIZE winner: Katie Sutton with Mall Monster and mentor Sue Turle

Katie's our winner

THE MONSTER who visited a Leyton school was not a bit scary – he was great fun, and he had a prize for one of the pupils.

He was at Barclay Primary School to meet eight-year-old Katie Sutton, the overall winner of a contest to design an Envirohero, run by The Mall shopping centre in Walthamstow as part of its year's Enviromal campaign, which aims to reduce the impact the centre and its patrons have on the environment.

Katie's winning character Recycleminx will be used to front the centre's campaign next year.

The Mall Monster - the centre's mascot - presented Katie with a £50 WH Smith voucher and £250 for the school.

A delighted Katie said: "I'm really happy and proud to have won this amazing competition because I feel people need to improve on recycling and thinking about pollution."

"I wanted Recycleminx to grab people's attention by being strong willed and powerful."

She uses her powers to zap old recyclable materials and turn them into something new useful."

Art teacher Sheila Hallissey added: "The children enjoyed experimenting with different materials. They already had lots of ideas for their super-heroes and the activity generated a great deal of discussion."

"I enjoyed working with the group which was very focused."

School senior mentor Sara Turle said: "We are very proud of Katie. Her prize is fitting because the school received the Green Flag last year, recycling is at our forefront. We teach pupils and the local community about recycling and sustainability."

Barclay School also has eco and recycling monitors and uses recycled items art work and environmental subjects are important there.

The Envirohero competition, which attracted more than 200 entries from local schools was judged by Yellow Advertiser editor Mick Ferris and the Mall management team.

GOBLIN commuters get a boost

HELP is on the way for the borough's crushed commuters who have received a boost to their campaign to electrify the Barking to Gospel Oak line – to give them bigger and better trains.

Four local Labour London Assembly members have written to Chancellor George Osborne asking for the cash to improve the line.

Local campaigners Barking Gospel Oak Rail Users Group have been complaining about overcrowding on the old fashioned diesel trains which run on the line.

The assembly members have told the Chancellor the Treasury needs to put up the money as soon as possible to ensure that electrification can be introduced before Crossrail opens in 2018, and point out Transport for London has offered to contribute £25m towards the £90m cost of the scheme.

London Assembly Member for North East Jennette Arnold said: "The current lack of funding to this line prevents TfL from introducing longer trains on this route and the result is that passengers are horribly overcrowded. Demand is outstripping capacity and proper investment could help alleviate this."

The letter to George Osborne was signed by Jennette Arnold, John Biggs, City and East, Andrew Dismore, Barnet and Camden and Joanne McCartney, Enfield and Haringey.

Musicians hit the right note

TALENTED students vied to become the Young Musician of the Year, 2013.

Thirty-six of Chigwell School's most talented musicians competed in the thirteenth annual competition.

Throughout the day pupils played a variety of pieces of the highest standard and nine were selected to compete in the finalists' concert last Thursday evening.

Jonathan Lipton, a member of the LSO Board of Directors and Professor of Horn at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama, adjudicated the event.

Junior Musician of the Year was violinist Yasmin Antoniou and the Senior Musician was Heather Cook who gave a stunning recorder performance.

Rowan Jones (Junior, clarinet) and Katie Marshall (Senior, piano) were highly commended.

As part of her prize, Heather will play in the annual concert in Brentwood Cathedral next March.

The other senior finalists were Adam Melvin, Katie Marshall, Gopal Kambo, Alexander Bromwich and Jessica Maton.

The other junior finalists were Rowan Jones and Brooke Newton.

Chigwell School's Director of Music Howard Ebdon said: "Our young musicians shine as bright as the sun. We never cease to be tired of what the young people of today are capable of."

Indoors pass savings on to their customers

WHILE bespoke kitchens, bathrooms and bedrooms give you made-to-measure beauty, they do not have to cost you the earth.

You may think creating a dream kitchen from scratch will cost you a fortune, or calling on skilled craftsmen to transform the look of your bedroom will be a costly job, but you really couldn't be further from the truth.

This is because Indoors has built up such experience over the years creating their own furniture, they have gone out of their way to pass on savings to their customers.

With their own workshop using the latest technology, and their own skilled craftsmen, they can create a wide range of furniture and fittings for your home at less than the cost you would expect.

Its extensive kitchen services allow you to either create a whole new kitchen, right down to your own dimensions and needs, or give your existing one a complete new look with new doors, worktops and extra cupboards.

The company, based in South Ockendon, has a great design team who can discuss your requirements and your budget, and even come up with ideas you may not have thought about, before putting together a no obligation plan and a price estimate.

They can then fine tune everything from the layout to the finished look including colour, handles and worktops, and all the accessories you will need.

If your bedroom is in need of a new look then cut the cost of getting new furniture by using the company's replacement door service that has an extensive range of different styles and colours to choose from. If your existing furniture has seen better days then leave your dream bedroom in the hands of Indoors who can create complete new wardrobes as well as matching dressing tables, bedside cabinets and headboards.

You can also leave your bathroom in their capable hands for which they can build your furniture using the latest technology, whether you are looking for something traditional or much more modern.

Indoors prides itself on its innovative designs and individual service, which all go towards giving your kitchen, bedroom or bathroom a personal feel.

Their skilled and experienced team ensure complete customer satisfaction at all times, right through to fitting, and if you want to install yourself then they offer a supply only service.

For further information about Indoors call into their showroom at Aveley House, Arcany Road, South Ockendon, call them on 01708 671199, or visit www.indoors.essex.co.uk

The Carpet Factory Outlet has it all for your flooring needs

ALL the flooring you could possibly need for your home can be found under one roof at the Carpet Factory Outlet.

The family run business, which has been in the heart of Walthamstow for more than 33 years, has got such an extensive selection you will find exactly what you need, whether you are decorating one room or need flooring for an entire house.

Carpet Factory Outlet is one of the longest running flooring shops in London and has built up such a reputation that it sells and fits flooring across London, Hertfordshire and Essex.

Its fully stocked showroom is packed with many types of flooring including laminate, vinyl and carpets which can be supplied or fitted by their team of professionals with all work guaranteed.

Its extensive range of carpets include loop and twist pile, patterned, natural, wool and saxony, all of which are sold including the cost of fitting so there are no hidden costs.

Its vast range of laminate flooring offers an easy way to brighten up any room and its vinyl flooring is extremely easy to maintain, making it ideal for bathrooms and kitchens.

What's more, they also have a wide selection of rugs including Polypropylene, Hand Tufted Polyester, Wool and Luxury, as well as Polyester Shaggy Rugs and a range for children's rooms, all of which come in a range of different sizes so you are sure to find something to suit any budget.

Carpet Factory Outlet prides itself on its outstanding deals throughout the year and current offers include Felt Back Pile Carpet up to 58.6 metres for a two bedroom house, including adhesive and fitting for just £499, and the same carpet up to 83.7 metres for a three bedroom house for just £799, also including adhesive and fitting.

There's also a 10 per cent discount for senior citizens (excluding whole house deal).

What's more, the company offers a free no obligation shop at home service where you can view samples in your front room allowing you to choose the right carpets to match your decor and furniture.

Carpet Factory Outlet, at 186a Hoe Street, Walthamstow, E17 4GH, is open from 9.30am to 5pm from Monday to Saturday and visitors will find plenty of parking along the side roads.

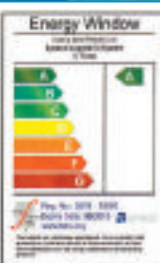

For further information call them on 020 8503 6533 or visit www.carpetfactory-outletlondon.co.uk

Fairytale finish for Thurrock

East Thurrock United 1
Thurrock 3
Essex Andrews Under 14s Cup Final

By Robert Craven

Thurrock needed to recover from an early deficit to defeat spirited neighbours East Thurrock United and claim the Essex Andrews Under 14s Cup.

Emmanuel Kouassi put East Thurrock ahead in the 17th minute, but Billy Monk quickly pulled a goal back before Joshua Lee's sensational strike and a Jack Willis goal sealed Thurrock's comeback.

East Thurrock could only name a squad of 11 and they were hampered by an injury to their goalkeeper sustained last weekend.

Thurrock tested stand-in stopper Brandon Olagunju, who made a series of fine saves.

East Thurrock United: Brandon Olagunju, Sam Kirwin, Callum Adelizzi-Hill, Jake Driver, Dennis Sendur, Ryan Tattan, Jayde Abraham, Conor Hales, Emmanuel Kouassi, Darren Phillips, Frankie Naidoo.

Harper-Horn selected for elite baseball programme

HIT: Stuart Harper-Horn batting

Stuart Harper-Horn has beaten stiff competition over a series of trials to make the elite Great Britain Lions baseball programme.

Like their namesake in cricket, the Lions are the development squad for the full national team, helping talented youngsters make the transition to international baseball.

Harper-Horn, 22, who plays for the Essex Redbacks National Baseball League team, will join 17 other talented young players from across the country to develop and hone his skills.

An ecstatic Harper-Horn said: "I'm delighted to have made the squad. I've put in a lot of effort over the last few years to improve my game and would like to thank the Redbacks' coaches in helping develop my talents so far.

"I hope that with the GB Lions I can improve even further and perhaps even make the full senior team soon."

The GB Lions will be coached by Liam Carroll, who has extensive coaching experience in Britain, and in the USA with the University of Nevada baseball programme.

Carroll said: "Stuart has shown great aptitude and attitude so far in the trials over the winter and with his performances with Redbacks. I'm confident that by being involved in the GB Lions he can improve further, and perhaps eventually make the full senior team."

The GB Lions programme was established in 2011 as a chance for players who aged 23 or under to make the step from junior baseball into the full senior team. Four members of last year's programme managed to represent the full side at the European Baseball Championships in September as well as the World Baseball Classic Qualifiers.

This weekend, the Redbacks' NBL team travel to Finsbury Park to take on the league-leading London Mets, while the Redbacks' second team host the Guildford Mavericks II at Forest Glade.

Panathlon

Teams geared for June finals

Beacon Hill and West Essex joined North West Essex and Tendring as they won through in the second semi-final of the Essex 2013 Panathlon and will go on to compete in the final on June 26 at Basildon Sports Village as part of the Essex School Games.

Previous Essex champions Beacon Hill from Thurrock were too strong for the opposition and won boccia, table cricket, curling and athletics races to finish well ahead of the pack, with West Essex, represented by Oakwood School, edging out Columbus Chelmsford and Castle View Glenwood.

Brandon Mullin from Beacon Hill Academy in Thurrock said: "The kids will be buzzing until the final in June – Panathlon is the highlight of their sporting year."

Panathlon is a charity which provides multi-sport competition for over 3,000 disabled children each year, predominantly across London and the south-east. 125 London schools from all 32 boroughs will be involved in 2013, with 15,000 active hours of sport provided to disabled children.

Panathlon founder Ashley Icton said: "With excitement still fresh from the London Paralympics, we are delivering real legacy to thousands of disabled children in London, competing at their very own version of the Paralympics."

Lord Seb Coe, Chairman of the British Olympic Association says: "I am proud that partners such as Panathlon are delivering on our vision of the Olympic and Paralympic Games boosting sports participation."

Martial Arts

Success for Perry siblings

River, Star and Fox Perry

The freestyle and weapons competition in the southern open championships in Gillingham, Kent on Sunday was a major success for the Perry siblings Fox, River and Star.

Star Perry, 6, took gold hard style form, gold freestyle boe, gold creative forms and silver in traditional weapons.

River Perry, 12, showed he is on the road to success again by taking gold hard style form, silver musical forms and two bronze traditional weapons in creative forms.

Fox Perry, 13, took gold hard style forms, gold traditional weapons and bronze in freestyle boe.

These siblings go from strength to strength with one Judge saying it has been a long time since he had seen anything like it.

The children train at Brentwood, Pitsea, Basildon, DAGENHAM and ROMFORD with Steven Perry B.M.A.K.G karate club Essex and Emma Elmes of Elmes 3 style who trains the siblings in musical Bo.

Spartans' woes continue as they crash to defeat

American Football

Essex Spartans American football team saw their early-season struggles continue with a 0-14 home defeat at the hands of the Milton Keynes Pathfinders.

After dropping their first two games, the Billericay-based Spartans welcomed the Pathfinders looking for their first win of the season. In an ill-tempered and scrappy game, Essex had Aaron Millar to thank for ensuring the opening quarter ended scoreless with his block of a Pathfinder field goal attempt.

After the teams traded interceptions, Nick Mayer snagging his first of the year for the Spartans, Milton Keynes were able to open the scoring shortly before halftime with a short-yardage plunge to give the visitors a 0-7 lead.

Spartan Craig Willis was fortunate to see his fumble of the second-half kickoff recovered by teammate Norris Owusu, who took the ball down to the visitors 4 yard line. After a long punt return by Mayer, the Spartans were unlucky to reduce the deficit when Mayer's field goal narrowly missed wide right.

As tempers flared, Earnest Owusu ended another Pathfinder drive with an interception deep in Spartans territory, but with quarterback Tom Overton-Smith struggling, the home team were unable to capitalise.

A reflective Spartans Head Coach Marc Saunders commented, "Today's loss was certainly a disappointment, we made mistakes and paid the price.

"Our next three weeks will certainly be spent going back to basics and getting the little things working as they should."

The Spartans return to action on June 2 when they visit the Kent Exiles, before returning to Hanakins Farm on June 9th to play the Maidstone Pumas.
